PLEADED GUILTY AND GIVEN A LIGHT FINE

The Outcome of the First Arrest for Violating the Recently Enacted Prohibition Statutes.

W. S. Neil, the barber who was arrested New Year's day on a charge of violating a provision of the prohibition statute, wherein he passed a bottle of whiskey to Claude Williams, a negro convict, at the time of the ball game the day before, appeared before Justice Carr yesterday morning and pleaded guilty as charged.

Captain Van Sice, who swore out the warrant, explained he did not ask a severe punishment, but caused his arrest to show the public that liquor can not be given the convicts with impunity. He urged that Neil's fine be made as light as possible since he had pleaded guilty to the charge and it was his first offense. Neil was accordingly fined $15, which he paid. It is given out, however, that the next time anything of the kind happens the offender will get the limit of the law. The only excuse Neil offered for his act was that he had been drinking and did not know what he was doing. Williams, the convict who accepted the liquor, will be taken back to Florence this morning and will serve out the rest of his time there, day for day. His double time at the Tempe bridge has come to a stop.

The bridge baseball team, which for a time enjoyed a reputation of never being defeated, has met its match several times recently on New Year's day a picked Tempe team, composed of normal, high and reclamation service players, cleaned up the bridge team by a score of twelve to six. There was an immense crowd at the game and it was a hard fought and interesting one, some good plays being made on both sides. The bridge team recently lost one or two of its best players and did not make as good a showing as it has before. Work at the bridge was suspended in the afternoon and the time devoted to the national pastime.

MESA

MARRIED MEN SHOWED THEY KNOW BASEBALL

Defeat Bachelors in a Wooley Looking Contest Played at Mesa New Year's Day.

The championship game of base ball played on New Year's Day between the married men and bachelors of Mesa, attracted a large crowd and much interest was taken in the event. There were many who claimed that when a man had joined the ranks of married men, he lost his ability to do his best work in the field of sport. They held that the married man, having a family to care for was more timid; took fewer chances in a sporting event and had ever present with him his responsibility to wife and family. Of course others held the contrary view.

The game was called promptly and the contest was entered into with a great deal of vim on both sides. The married men had Ernest Williams in the pitcher's box and he refused to permit the infant class to make a single run, so long as he handled the sphere. Finally, Mr. Williams was taken out and the new man was more liberal, permitting the singles to score eight runs. The married men carried off the honors with a score of twelve runs. Considering that many of the players had not handled a ball for years, the game was a very good one.

ON SCHOOL BUSINESS.

H. D. Clark, Jeff Duncan and Leonard George, the school trustees of District No. 57, were all in Mesa yesterday, on business connected with a bond issue for the district. The old house will no longer accommodate the pupils and the citizens are determined that the child drop shall have every facility possible for the acquisition of a good common school education. The Mesa Improvement Co. donated the land on which the new school house will stand, the location being almost in the geographical center of the district. The contract calls for the completion of the tunnel on or before the fifteenth of April. About 100 feet have already been driven. The engineers say the vein will be tapped within five hundred feet. Present indications are that the dip of the vein is greater than estimated and that the ore will be struck inside of 400 feet.

The contractors are experienced mining men and will lose no time in getting the work completed. An air compressor will be installed at once and other necessary tools and machinery secured to crowd the work.

THROUGH THE STATE

YUMA—The Commercial Club of Yuma is housing. The housing organization, which has been dormant for several months, has taken a new lease on life and the activity of old members bids fair to increase the list of names on the books and bring about big results for Yuma and the vicinity.

YUMA—It is reported here that rich strikes have been made on the Castle Dome range. No particulars are obtainable.

YUMA—A big Irishman and a little Frenchman mixed on the streets Monday. A woman, seeing that the little fellow was getting the worst of it, waded in with a long iron spoon and beat the big fellow off.

NOGALES—It is said here that an outfit will shortly commence work on the dumps of the old Harqua Hala mine. The tailings are supposed to contain about a million in gold.

CANILE—Heavy snow fall in the mountains has assured good feed for the coming season.

PARKER—Josiah Winchester and family were held up by an intoxicated Mexican while driving Sunday and their lives threatened. The man pulled an automatic revolver and attempted to shoot, but neglected to throw off the safety. He then grabbed a shotgun and tried to discharge it at the party. The safety device on this weapon fooled him also, and before he could make further trouble the man was overpowered.

WICKENBURG—This town is to have a library. The Civic association—an organization of women—is boosting hard for the institution and its success is now assured.

Ask any person who has given Tubercleicide a fair test what it will do in known cases of Tuberculosis. The treatment must win upon its merits.

ALFALFA IN PERIL.

Alfalfa has grown so immensely in importance and is now cultivated in so large a part of the country that there is widespread concern in the ravages of the alfalfa beetle, which has destroyed most of the crop in Utah. The California state horticulturist, Professor Cook, has just sent out a bulletin of warning, in which he describes this new pest, which is said to come from the Mediterranean. It is interesting that the vacuum cleaner is being successfully used to gather the larvae from the fields. Here is another argument for vacuum cleaning railway cars—thirty-seven of the insects were found in one compartment of a Pullman sleeping car. With such deluxe accommodations a plague travels fast.—Springfield Republican.
